So much has changed for me since I started my LegalShield business. I had a background in retail sales, pharmaceutical sales, and consulting all prior to me joining LegalShield. I don't want to talk to you about how undervalued I was in corporate America. Instead, I will talk to you about the dreams I've been able to live because I built a LegalShield business. I'm a father of two, and I am totally involved in the lives of my daughters. My oldest daughter is living her dreams as a costumer for television shows out in California, and my youngest tested into ALL HONORS COURSES for high school, and is an athlete who kicks butt in everything that she touches. Over the years, I've been the field trip dad, the volunteer dad, the track and field dad, and the "can I have some money, please?" dad. I was the dad who got to co-teach my daughter's drama class in the middle of the day when most other dads had to be at work. And I'm the SON who was able to spend every day in the hospital with MY dad when he was sick. I didn't even have to ask a boss for time off to do so!

As for me, a few years ago, I started acting as a hobby. That hobby turned into a passion, and now I'm having a ball chasing down some of my dreams and goals. I've had speaking roles on Chicago P.D. (NBC) and Empire (Fox), plus commercials, plays, and two feature films. I'm looking forward to working with Will Smith and Kevin Spacey (it's on my vision board). I also wrote a self-help book not too long ago that hit best-seller rankings on Amazon. My life is totally dipped in awesome sauce!

The best part about being a LegalShield Associate is the ability to build an amazing team that is actually more like a family. The Prosperity Group is who we are, and changing lives is what we do. I'm only able to chase my dreams because others have decided to change their lives. Thank you TPG, and thank you to my world-class mentors who have poured into me over the years! You have all helped shape who I am today.
